NUMRBE 299.

THE NEXT CONGRESS

It Will Be Republican by a Large Majority.

BOTH THE HOUSE AND SENATE.

Chairman Babcock of the Republican Congressional Committee Claims 259 Members in the House and 44 in the Senate. The Latest Returns From the Closely Contested Districts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—On the strength of the latest returns Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional committee figures that the Republican representation in the next house will be at least 259 members.

Chairman Babcock also says that from present indications the Republicans will have at least 44 members in the senate, and in this number is included Senator Jones of Nevada.

A dispatch received last night that caused the greatest surprise was one stating that Representative McMillin of Tennessee was possibly defeated. It came from the chairman of the state central Republican committee of Tennessee and added that the returns in the district were not all in.

Among the telegrams received at headquarters yesterday were the following:

Richard Bartholdt, St. Louis: "Missouri redeemed the whole Republican state ticket and 10 congressmen elected. Bland, Hatch, Heard, Clark and McGowan defeated."

From Seattle, Greensboro, N. C.: "It is conceded at the Democratic headquarters that we have elected seven congressmen in this state. Third and Sixth districts doubtful. Sixty counties heard from. We have 65 members, Democrats 23. This gives us control of the house, if we can hold them, and the Democrats concede us the senate."

John T. Wilson, Spokane, Wash.: "Have elected the two members of congress and have about 80 majority in the legislature. Congratulations on the great victory."

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Legislature on Joint Ballot Will Probably Be Fusion.

RALEIGH, Nov. 9.—Semi-official returns from nearly every county in the state indicate that the fusion ticket, state, judicial and legislative, put out by the Republicans and Populists, is elected by some 20,000 majority. This gives them the state treasurer, chief justice and two associate justices of the supreme court and five judges of the superior court.

Chairman Butler of the Populists claims the state by 30,000, and says that the fusionists will have a majority of 30 on joint ballot. This latter is believed to be correct. They will have the senate by 10 majority. It is not yet possible to estimate their strength in the house. Only three Democratic congressmen have been elected. Woodward in the Second district, Shaw in the Third and Lockhart in the Sixth. Crawford, Democrat, is defeated by Pearson, Republican, in the Ninth by a very small majority. The other congressmen elected were: First district, Skinner, Populist; Fourth, Stroud, Populist; Fifth, Settle, Republican; Seventh, Shuford, Populist; Eighth, Linney, Populist.

OHIO.

Republicans Now Claim the State by 133,204 Plurality.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—Unofficial returns received up to this time indicate that the Republicans have carried Ohio by a plurality of not far from 134,000. Two more congressmen are also added to the Republican list, making the delegation now stand 19 Republicans and two Democrats, the latter being Sorg in the Third and Layton in the Fourth. Sorg pulls through by from 150 to 250, the latter being the claim made by the Democrats, and the former is the concession of the Republicans. Layton, the other Democrat, gets through by Mercer county's vote.

Chairman Dick claims the state by 138,294. These figures are based on complete returns from nearly every county in the state. Later returns have exceeded all estimates based on first returns. It is not believed the official count will vary much from this figure.

Texas.

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—The latest returns would seem to indicate that Kourby, Populist, had been elected in the Sixth district over Abbott by a small plurality; Bell, Democrat, over Jenkins, Populist, in the Eighth district; Gilliland, Populist, over Cockerell, Democrat, in the Thirteenth; Noonan, Republican, over Houston, Democrat, in the Twelfth; Weldon, Republican, over Crain, Democrat, in Eleventh; Pondleton, Democrat, is elected over Baber, Populist, in the Seventh; Culbertson, Democrat, over Davis, Populist, in Fourth; Yoakum, Democrat, over Perdue, Populist, in Third; Bailey, Democrat, over Broder, Populist, in Fifth; Crowley, Democrat, over Rosenthal, Republican, in Tenth. First, Second and Ninth return Hutcheson, Cooper and Sayers, Democrats. Official returns from 51 counties give Culbertson, Democrat, for governor, 13,000 plurality. His plurality in the state is estimated at 35,000.

New York Complete.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Complete returns from New York state show the vote for governor as follows: Morton, 698,713; Hill, 514,874; Morton's plurality 183,839.

The official vote of New York city for mayor is as follows: William L. Strong, Republican, 153,043; Hugh J. Grant, Tammany, 108,773; Lucien Sanial, Socialists, 7,181; James McCallum, People's, 298; George Gettlen, Prohibition, 869. Strong's plurality 44,265. The official vote for president of the board of aldermen gives John Jeroleman, Republican, a plurality of 44,373; E. J. H. Tamson, Republican, for sheriff, 27,160.

Colorado.

DENVER, Nov. 9.—The Republicans apparently have a majority of 16 on joint ballot in the legislature. The senate will consist of 16 Republicans and 19 Democrats and Populists. In the house the Republicans will have 42 members and the opposition 23.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 9.—The official vote in 79 out of 90 counties give Holcomb, Fusion gubernatorial candidate, 2,503 plurality. There is little probability that this will be materially changed by later returns. The Republican central committee are arranging to contest on allegations of frauds. The legislature is overwhelmingly Republican, and the congressional delegation is solid Republican.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The plurality of Budd, the Democratic candidate for governor in California, will be about 2,000. The Republicans have elected the remainder of the state ticket and will have a majority of at least 20 in the next legislature. The latest returns show that there is no doubt that the Republicans have six of the seven congressmen.

Idaho.

BOISE CITY, Nov. 9.—Late returns do not change the estimates respecting the results of the election. The Statehouse has received half of the vote of the state. It shows a Republican plurality of 1,800 to 2,000 over the Populists. This will be increased to 3,000 by full returns. The Republicans have elected 32 out of 54 members of the legislature, possibly more.

Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 9.—Finis E. Downing of Virginia, Ill., is in the city and reports that he has lost the Sixteenth district to General John I. Kinaker by about 200 votes. He accepts his defeat philosophically and does not try to explain the lull. This makes the congressional delegation from Illinois solidly Republican.

North Dakota.

FARGO, Nov. 9.—Chairman Robinson of the Republican central committee has received returns from nearly every precinct in the state. They gave Allin, Republican, for governor, 6,000, and Johnson, Republican, representative for congress, 5,000. Republican state ticket is elected and the legislature overwhelmingly Republican.

Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—Later returns show the election of William Trelear, Republican, over Champ Clark, Democrat, in the Ninth district. This makes the present standing of Missouri's congressional delegation 10 Republicans, four Democrats, with one district, the Second, in doubt and claimed by both parties.

Holman Defeated.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.—News from the Fourth district indicates Watson's election over Holman by a majority of more than a hundred. A telegram just received from a Brookville states that Franklin county has given Holman 931 majority. All other Republican congressional candidates in Indiana are elected.

Montana.

HELENA, Nov. 9.—Returns enough are in hand to make certain the election of a Republican legislature in both branches, which will elect two United States senators. Hartman, Republican, is elected to congress, and Hunt for associate justice. Helena's majority for the state capital is estimated at 1,800.

Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 9.—Both Democratic and Republican state committees claim the governor. The official count in each county will be required to decide whether Turner, Democrat, or Evans, Republican, is elected governor. The state legislature is Democratic in both houses.

Washington.

TACOMA, Nov. 9.—Indications are that the Republicans will have 85 members of the legislature out of a total of 112, the Populists 14 and the Democrats 13, giving the Republicans a clear majority on joint ballot of 68.

California Bank Failure.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Nov. 9.—The San Bernardino First National bank closed its doors yesterday morning and posted a notice that the suspension was due to lack of funds. The directors assert that the bank's depositors will not lose a dollar. They state that the withdrawal of large sums of money by a few heavy depositors who had become alarmed by rumors that the bank was unsafe brought on the failure.

General Gibson Dying.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 9.—General W. H. Gibson is growing weaker every day, and his attending physicians state that he can survive but a few days at the longest. General Gibson is a well known Republican wheel horse, and an orator of national renown.

Quarreled Over a Piece of Land.

LITCHFIELD, Ill., Nov. 9.—Four miles south of here yesterday, a farmer named A. Kottenrot, shot and killed Mrs. Charles Neimeyer and then fatally wounded himself. The tragedy was the result of a quarrel over the ownership of a piece of land.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

The General Committee in Session—Allusions to the Elections.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The general missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church is in session in Brooklyn. The committee is composed of all the bishops of the church, representatives from districts covering the entire world, ministers and laymen from the missionary boards of the church. These bishops are present: Thomas Bowman, R. S. Foster, S. M. Merrill, E. G. Andrews, H. W. Warren, C. D. Foss, J. E. Hurst, J. M. Walden, W. F. Mallieu, C. H. Fowler, J. H. Vincent, J. N. Fitzgerald, I. W. Joyce, J. P. Newman and D. A. Goodsell.

The committee devoted the session to considering how much money it should undertake to raise for missionary purposes during the coming year. Last year the collections were $1,125,000. Many of the members thought it inexpedient to undertake the collect the amount next year on account of the hard times.

This precipitated a discussion of the business depression. At the suggestion of Chaplain C. C. McCabe, the organ loft was decorated with a big United States flag. The chaplain said it was in honor of the American board of missions, and J. D. Wells, president of the Presbyterian board, made addresses. D. Storrs began by referring to the flag on the organ loft. He said: "I see by the flag that you believe in the doctrine in election. I'm sure you practiced that doctrine. I'm sure it was ordained you should do so."

An appropriation of 55 per cent for home and 45 for foreign missions was finally decided upon.

The Rev. Dr. Leonard called the attention of the officers to the fact that Bishop Taylor, who received an appropriation of $2,500 for Liberia, and large private donations besides, had made no report of his expenditures since 1889, although he had been called upon by the conference to do so.

The Methodist Social union gave a banquet to the members of the conference at the Hotel St. George last night. It was followed by a reception.

The meeting will last one week.

IRON AND STEEL.

How They Are Coming in These Two Industries.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—The Iron Trade Review this week says:

If all the postponed buying of the past few weeks should materialize, now that the election is over, for which buyers were waiting, there is a good week's business ahead in iron and steel. With few exceptions, iron and steel manufacturers are protectionists, and now that the country is practically beyond the possibility of further advances toward free trade for two or three years at least, it is to be expected that the business policy of individual buyers will be governed by their judgment as to the improved outlook. Sentimental improvement is already present; the next development to be expected is an improved demand and freer trading.

The week under review has been uneventful in every selling center. For three weeks there has been a dwindling in the volume of business and salesmen have heard much of the desire of their customers to wait for election. Some furnacemen, indeed, have been holding off, for the same reason, performing to take their chances on a more spirited market after a protection victory, rather than push sales on the weak market that has been experienced of late. Chicago notes a fair volume of sales the past week in northern and southern pig iron, due to the gradual inching of the foundry business toward a better basis. Pittsburgh has done little in any sort of material.

Sensational Story Denied.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The sensational story circulated in New York to the effect that the Red Star line steamer Rhyndland was six days overdue at Antwerp from New York, and that the delay in her arrival was causing great anxiety, is without the slightest foundation in truth. As a matter of fact the Rhyndland arrived at Antwerp Monday, last, and is now lying safely in that port from which she will sail next Saturday on her return for New York. The steamer on her eastern voyage, experienced bad weather, which delayed her somewhat, but she sustained not the slightest injury and arrived at Antwerp on the 6th inst. as above stated.

Attempt to Burn a Town.

WHEELING, Nov. 9.—A dastardly attempt was made last night by some unknown parties to destroy Addison, the county seat of Webster county, by fire. The town was set afire in several places, and before the people could be aroused and the fire extinguished, the opera house, D. M. Miller & Company's store and the postoffice building were totally consumed, the loss being very heavy, with but little insurance. As Addison is in the interior only meager particulars can be obtained.

Dr. Parkhurst Honored.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, preacher and reformer, was last night elected an honorary member of the Union League club at the regular monthly meeting of the club. Until Dr. Parkhurst's name was added to the number there was just a dozen such members, including General Harrison, General O. O. Howard and Governor-elect Morton. Dr. Parkhurst makes the 13th, and he is the only clergyman to be thus honored.

Your Learning.

Wear your learning like your watch in a private pocket, and do not pull it out and strike it merely to show that you have one. If you are asked what o'clock it is, tell it, but do not proclaim it hourly and unasked like a watchman.

MICHAEL KELLY DEAD.

He Was Known as the "King" Among Ball Players.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Michael J. Kelly, known the country over as the "King" among base ball players, died at the emergency hospital here at 9:54 last night from acute pneumonia. Although he had been ill for several days, it was not thought necessary to summon Mrs. Kelly from their home at Allentown, Pa., until Wednesday, at which time communication was cut off by the crippled telegraph wires.

Since the base ball season closed Kelly has been connected with a theatrical company, appearing in specialty. Last Monday morning he came to Boston feeling slightly ill, but well enough to call on an old friend at the Plymouth House. He intended to continue his work with his company at a Boston theater last night, but feeling unable to do so, called on Dr. Galen at the emergency hospital. The physician pronounced his disease acute pneumonia, and ordered him to bed. Until Wednesday the prospects for his recovery seemed good, but during the night he suffered a relapse, and sank rapidly, remaining in a hopeless condition until death came yesterday evening.

"GOODBY, GOD BLESS YOU."

Major General Howard Retires From Active Army Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Thursday Major General O. O. Howard, commanding the department of the east, with headquarters on Governor's Island, was retired from active service. He has reached the age of 64, when the army regulations say he may give way to younger men. There was no ceremony, no mustering out, but only the handshake. The "Goodby, God bless you," from officers with whom he has been associated.

General Howard will remain in New York for a few weeks and then he and Mrs. Howard go to visit their daughter in Portland, Or. He has taken a home in Burlington, Vt., near Fort Ethan Allen, where his eldest son is captain and quartermaster. There he expects to live out the remainder of his life.

Trolley Car Goes Over an Embankment.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—Yesterday evening a trolley car on the West End electric street railway jumped the track, going down the steep grade on Steuben street, and went over a 30-foot wall. Two passengers, Mrs. Dr. Rankin of Allegheny and Frederick Groff of Elliottsburgh, were badly bruised, and the motorman, Joe Mannion, was pinned beneath the car, suffering a badly sprained shoulder, and it is thought internal injuries. Lucille Taylor, a 10-year-old girl, who was walking up Steuben street at the time, was thrown over the embankment, and is badly hurt.

Murder Over the Election.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 9.—John Traynor, marshal of Athens, Ky., shot and killed Isaac Davidson here at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He also seriously cut Lew Sharp, a farmer of the Athens neighborhood. Traynor is a Breckinridge man and Davidson and Sharp Owens supporters. They fell out over the election, and while Sharp and Traynor were fighting, Davidson tried to separate them, when Traynor shot him. Traynor gave himself up.

Opinion of the Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The civil service commission has received an opinion from Attorney General Olney regarding the complaint against Lee D. Craig of soliciting campaign contributions from employees of the San Francisco customs office. It is the opinion of Attorney General Olney that the offense alleged does not come within the civil service law and that Craig was in no sense an employee of the government.

The St. Louis to Be Christened.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—President Cleveland will probably accompany Mrs. Cleveland next Monday to Philadelphia where she will christen the new ocean liner St. Louis. All the members of the cabinet with ladies of their families and Private Secretary Thurber are expected to be of the party which will be accommodated on a special train running directly to the shipyards.

Throat Cut.

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Nov. 9.—News just comes here from Floyd, West Carroll parish, that Tom Keys of the firm of Keys & Pinston was found in his store with his throat cut from ear to ear.

Murdered Children Buried.

PAULING, O., Nov. 9.—The funeral of the murdered Good children took place yesterday, the interment being made at Live Oak cemetery. Charles Hart, Leo Cain and Clarence Brindle are still held in jail pending the coroner's investigation.

Fined $1,000 Each.

DES MOINES, Nov. 9.—Doctors A. L. Wright, S. C. Dangle and A. S. Gekley of Carroll, Ia., were yesterday convicted by the federal grand jury here to pay each a fine of $1,000 for irregularities in certifying to fees as members of the pension examining board.

Caricaturist Follows Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Frank P. W. Bellow, the caricaturist, best known as "Chip," has died of pneumonia. He was 32 years old and a son of the Frank Bellow whose caricatures were features of the illustrated newspapers 20 years ago.

"Wild Bill" Turner a Murderer.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Nov. 9.—James Nolan was shot and killed by "Wild Bill" Turner at Halfway house yesterday afternoon. It was an old grudge.

DR. TALMAGE RESIGNS

Brooklyn Tabernacle Will Not Be Rebuilt.

THE PRESBYTERY TO DISSOLVE.

The Great Preacher Will in Future Devote Himself Entirely to Evangelical Work—For a Year at Least He Will Make Pastoral Visits Through the Country, Starting in January.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Dr. T. Do Witt Talmage, pastor of the Brooklyn tabernacle, which was recently for the third time destroyed by fire, has written a letter to the elders of the church tendering his resignation. The following is a copy of the letter:

BROOKLYN, Nov. 5, 1894.

To the Session of the Brooklyn Tabernacle:

DEAR BRETHREN—I hereby ask you to join with me in a request to the Brooklyn presbytery that they dissolve the pastoral relation now existing. The congregation of the Brooklyn tabernacle have built during my pastorate three large churches, which have been destroyed. It is not right that I should call on them to build a fourth church during my ministry.

I advise that you do one thing of two things—either call a new pastor, under whose leadership a church might be built, or remain in organization until you can give certificates of membership to our people, so that they may in usual form join sister churches.

As for myself, I will, as Providence may direct, either take another pastorate or go into general evangelistic work, preaching the Gospel to all people without money and without price.

Thanking you for your ever increasing kindness and mine, and hoping to be reassured with you in the heavenly world, together with the multitudes with whom we have worshipped during the last 25 years, I am, yours, in the Gospel, T. DEWITT TALMAGE.

The session, according to a friend of the preacher, met Talmage last night and agreed to request the Brooklyn presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relations now existing. This is a practical acceptance of the resignation.

Dr. Talmage will in the future devote himself entirely to evangelical work. For a year, at least, he will make pastoral visits through the country, starting early in January.

The manager of his business affairs said: "Dr. Talmage believes he is called upon to preach the Gospel and not to plan how interest on a big church can be raised and how impatient creditors can be appeased."

Leonard Moody, president of the Brooklyn tabernacle board of trustees, said: "I strongly advised Dr. Talmage against rebuilding the tabernacle. I told him that in the face of the present hard times it would be difficult if not impossible to raise the necessary money and he agreed with me."

LABOR CAN ORGANIZE.

An Expression of Opinion From Attorney General Olney on the Subject.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—The controversy between the receivers of the Reading Railroad company and such employees as are members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, has prompted an expression of opinion from Attorney General Olney in the form of a letter to Judge Dallas of the United States circuit court, before whom the case is pending.

The difficulty between the two organizations reached a crisis on Aug. 13 last, when General Superintendent Sweigard summoned before him 11 employees and notified them that they should abandon the brotherhood as a condition of retaining their places with the railroad company. Vigorous protests were made against this alternative and the brotherhood urged the receivers to withdraw it, but in answer, the receivers, on Sept. 17, wrote: "The policy of this company is well known to be that it will not consent that persons in this service shall owe allegiance to other organizations which may make claims upon them which are incompatible with their duties to their employers. This position was taken advisedly, and we have no intention of departing from it."

Attorney General Olney's letter is an exhaustive discussion of the questions presented, and he reviews the various problems, and the consistent solutions to be applied in every aspect. In substance, he holds that labor unorganized is practically powerless, that in combinations such as this lies the only safeguard of the workingman in his dealings with organized capital, and that his right to belong to such a union—beneficial in intent and purpose—is a legal right which he can not be deprived of.

Suing For a Big Board Bill.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Justice Barrett rendered judgment in the supreme court yesterday for $23,171.51, a board bill, in favor of Julia Shaw, former owner of the Grand Union hotel, against Carolan O'Brien Bryant. Bryant, his two daughters and a maid lived on credit at the hotel during the three years between 1892 and 1895. They had expectations to the amount of $180,000, which they finally realized. They refused to pay and Mrs. Shaw brought suit.

Professor Swing's Will.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The will of the late Professor David Swing has been offered for probate. The estate has not yet been accurately inventoried, but the attorneys, who were Professor Swing's advisers, said that it would amount to about $90,000. The will gives $10,000 to the Illinois Humane society and after making several small bequests, the entire estate is given to the two daughters of Professor Swing.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1894.

Fair weather, except rain in or near the lakes; warmer.

Congress' dilly-dallying with the tariff bill had much more to do with starting the late cyclone than anything else.

SENATOR HILL will hardly be the next Democratic nominee for President. This was a bad year for him to stake his all on New York.

EVERY little peanut politician is being interviewed now on the late election. Of course they all know just what caused the avalanche.

BUTLER DAVIS is now kicking himself for meekly allowing the Republican boss of this Congressional district to turn him down at the Augusta convention. He will never have such another opportunity to land in the House of Representatives.

THE CAUSE OF THE "HARD TIMES."

We'll let the leading Republican paper of the West tell. The Chicago Tribune of September 28th, 1893, said: "The growth of distrust due to the continued purchase of silver, beginning fourteen months ago was remarkably steady. I never stopped until it culminated in a bad panic. It was known early in November that the Democrats had carried the country on a 'tariff for revenue only' platform. Many Democratic papers were insisting that the President ought to call the new Congress together in March or April to wipe out the protective duties. Yet there were no indications of a panic on the part of the manufacturers during the months immediately succeeding the election of Mr. Cleveland. New factories were started in protected as well as unprotected industries. But after the banks got into trouble and refused to lend money, then manufacturers did begin shutting up suddenly. The weakest ones failed outright. Others began running half time and cutting down wages or suspended altogether. In view of all these facts it is very reckless and wide of the truth to say that the manufacturers, after being quite at their ease for some months after the election of 1892, suddenly got scared, stampeded like a drove of cattle and created a financial panic all over the country, breaking 700 banks in a few weeks. The current history of the last year proves that the manufacturers were not panic breeders, but that the financial stringency grew directly out of the silver purchases and the constant additions to the currency of silver certificate money, which the Government had promised should be kept as good as gold, but with no additions to the gold with which to redeem the silver paper."

New that the election is over people can look at things through a clearer atmosphere. The Tribune in 1893 didn't think that the Democrats had caused the hard times. It was the Sherman silver bill then, but that wouldn't have been a good campaign cry. So the Tribune and other Republican journals changed their tactics and saddled the whole thing on the Democratic party, and Democracy has gone down because of a panic almost wholly due to Republican legislation. The American people will learn of their mistake in due time.

TIMELY AND TO THE POINT.

Will the Democrats of Mason County Profit by the Lesson of Defeat?

Mr. Editor: Will the "lesson of defeat" be beneficial?

Have the "warning factions" within the democracy at last settled "old scores?"

Can the individual Democrat now say to his fellow, "you defeated my friend at a former election and I defeated your friend at the present one?" "Honors are now easy." Two mean actions have resulted in the utter defeat of our party.

Shall we bury the hatchet and let bygones be bygones?

If, after sober second thought has come to us and we realize the barrenness of the triumph we have gained by the defeat of an individual, as we contemplate it through the ruin wrought to our party, and note the shouts of the victorious enemy—if the hatred in our hearts turns to bitter ashes in our mouths—if we can realize how infinitely contemptible is the narrow soul that imagines its petty grievance against one of a great party can justify its perfidy and treachery to the entire party—if such people wish to commit "harikari," and are ready to follow the example of Judas and will actually do so, then we may "take bope in defeat."

Democrats may yet "get together" and the present overthrow may be the means of bringing us back to the folds of true Democracy, and result in victory when next we meet the common enemy.

ECHOES FROM THE AVALANCHE.

The Latest News From the Late Election—A Contest Probable in This County.

Pugh's majority in Fleming is 45, according to the latest.

Robert T. Marshall, Democrat, was elected Justice of the Peace at Mt. Carmel by 17 majority, over J. S. Wallingford.

Judge Paynter is the only lucky Democrat in the lot.

Ed. Daum, Republican, defeated J. R. Minor for County Attorney in Bracken by 7 majority. For Jailer John Heffernan defeats H. C. Metcalfe by a majority of 24. Field was elected Judge by 263 majority over H. C. Weaver.

Part of the Republican ticket was elected in Kenton County.

Robert Buckler was elected County Attorney in Robertson, defeating Morford by 12 votes.

In Greenup the entire Republican ticket is elected by majorities ranging from 75 to 114. The Democrats made gains there.

Here are the returns from Brown County, Ohio: Sheriff, John Wood, Dem., 3,229; Weber, Rep., 2,683; Wood's plurality, 546. Commissioner, James Holman, Dem., 3,160; Ephraim Martin, Rep., 2,816; Holman's plurality, 344. Surveyor, C. M. Gordon, Dem., 3,147; C. O. Patton, Rep., 2,826; Gordon's plurality, 321. Infirmary Director, long term, Jesse Cahill, Dem., 3,207; Ernest Hassig, Rep., 2,679; Cahill's plurality, 528; short term, S. I. Teeters, Dem., 3,200; F. E. Kerans, Rep., 2,692; Teeters' plurality, 508. The State Congressional and Judicial tickets in Huntington Township average 26 Democratic majority. Stephens, for Congress, leads Hulick 31. The county ticket is considerably mixed. Weber, Rep., for Sheriff, 269; Woods, Dem., 260; Martin Rep., for Commissioner, 148; Holman, 197; Patton, Rep., for Surveyor, 265; Gordon, Dem., 263; Cahill, Dem., for Infirmary Director (long term), 269; Flassig, 262; Teeters, Dem. (short term), 275; Kearns, 253; Fritz, Dem., for Coroner, 277. The Populists cast 100 votes, Prohibitionists 50. Total vote, 574. Usual Democratic majority, 90, showing a Republican gain of 64.

There is considerable talk of a contest over some of the county offices. Between 80 and 100 ballots were returned uncounted by the election officers, and the majority in two or three of the races is so small that these ballots may change the result and give the Judgeship, Jailership, the Clerkship and the office of County Attorney to the Democratic nominees.

In addition to this, irregularities have been reported in several of the precincts.

The official canvass of the returns is in progress at the County Clerk's office. Judge Plister, County Clerk Pearce and Sheriff Jefferson, all being interested, are incapacitated to act at this count and the canvass is being made by "Squires Grant and Miller."

CONCEALED WEAPONS.

Officers Must Not Abuse Their Right to Carry Pistols—Sound Talk From a Judge.

A case was decided in the Police Court of Louisville a few days ago in which a private policeman had been arrested for flourishing his revolver on the street and fighting the people in the neighborhood. The case was not clearly made out, and the officer was dismissed, but not until after he received the following warning from the Judge:

"The right of any officer to carry concealed weapons ceases whenever he abuses that right. Any policeman or other ministerial officer who is guilty of flourishing a weapon, terrorizing citizens and thereby endangering their lives, is as much guilty of the crime as if he were not an officer. An officer's star is not a shield for lawlessness of any kind."

"County policemen and private policemen are not ministerial officers, and therefore have no right to carry weapons concealed except when actually engaged at the time they carry the weapons in the discharge of police duties."

"An appointment to such a position as county or private policeman does not carry with it the right to carry pistols at all times, but only when such officers are on actual and active duty. There have been many instances in which toughs have clothed themselves with the authority for no other purpose than to secure a supposed right to carry a weapon, with which they endanger the lives of good citizens."

OLD HICKORY'S WAYS.

Two Characteristic Stories of Jackson's Bluntness When He Was President.

(Washington Post.)

General Armstrong, assistant commissioner of Indian affairs, thinks that Andrew Jackson was one of the greatest men this country ever produced and has a number of stories which were told him by his uncle, who was an intimate friend of Old Hickory. One of them is very characteristic of the man.

Lewis Cass, secretary of war, was over at the White House one day with some important papers for the president to sign, among them being a court martial findings.

"Cass, what is this?" inquired Jackson as he was about to write his name to the document.

"It is a court martial," answered Cass.

"What have I to do with it?" asked the president.

"It dismisses an officer from the service, and the president must sign such orders."

Jackson toyed with the paper and said musingly: "Dismisses him from the army, eh? Why?"

"Drunkness; getting drunk and falling down on parade or something of that kind," answered the secretary.

"Who ordered the court?" asked Jackson.

"General Scott," answered Cass.

"Who is it?" inquired the president, with more interest.

"Inspector General Krann," replied Cass.

"What!" shouted Jackson. "My old friend Krann! Cass, just read what that paper says."

The secretary read the usual form of the court martial sentence in such cases. The president then took the paper and wrote across the bottom where he was about to sign his name:

"The within findings are disapproved, and Colonel Krann is restored to his duty and rank."

He passed the paper back to Secretary Cass and said, with his usual vehemence:

"By the Eternal, Cass, when you and Scott serve your country as well as that man has you can get drunk on duty every day."

A young man from Tennessee, son of a friend of General Jackson's, came to Washington for a place. He looked about and found what he wanted. It was in the war department and filled by a very efficient Whig, whom Secretary Cass would not remove. The young man told Jackson the situation, and Cass was sent for.

"Cass," said the president, "this young man, son of my old friend, says you have got a place in the war department filled by a Whig which you won't give him."

Secretary Cass explained that the duties of the office were of a peculiar kind, and he could get no one to fill the place if the man now in it should be removed. Jackson flared up.

"By the Eternal, Cass, do you mean to tell me you have an office in your department filled by a Whig which can't be filled by a Democrat? Then abolish the office!"

The young man got his place.

Hart Takes His Defeat Quietly.

Fleming Gazette: "Mr. Hart has conceded his defeat and takes it very quietly. As all other Democrats, he was greatly surprised at the result, although he thought there would be a considerable falling off of the vote of two years ago. One week ago Mr. Hart was uneasy as to the result of his home county, and developments show that his fears were not groundless. He made a desperate fight, but this is in the wrong sign of the moon for Democratic elections."

McDowell's Accounts Are All Right.

M. L. McDowell, father of the missing cashier of the Estill County Bank at Irvine, has returned to his home at Mt. Olivet and brings the news to his son's many friends that there is nothing crooked in his accounts. Judge Lilly, the President of the bank, assured him of this fact, and assigned as a cause of the young man's strange absence that he was somewhat demented. The report that McDowell had borrowed money in Louisville and Cincinnati was all a mistake, likewise the story of his buying 3,000 hogs. Young McDowell belongs to a wealthy family and there was no necessity of his stealing money.

IN MEMORIAM.

[Florence (Ala.) Herald.]

Entered into life eternal, Wednesday, October 24th, 1894, at her home at this place, Browning Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robinson.

She was gentle, sympathetic, cheerful and charitable. "A soft answer turneth away wrath," was one of her favorite verses and one that she applied to her daily life. A devoted daughter and affectionate sister, thoughtful for her friends, loyal to her church, faithful to God, hers was a life worthy of imitation.

The tender thoughts and memories of those who loved her make a covering for her grave of sweeter and more lasting fragrance than the flowers that bloom and fade, but in the home she beautified and left so desolate her influence is felt, out of which shall be born a new devotion and inspiration to follow her as she followed Christ.

Resolved, First, That the Methodist Sunday school feels its deep sense of loss in being deprived of so faithful, loving and loyal a member, whose cheerful face and kind greetings will be missed.

Second, That her classmates recognize that the best tribute of affection will be formed in seeking more closely to follow in the steps of our Saviour, whom she delighted to serve.

Relatives of the school which she loved, we extend to her sorrowing dear ones our earnest sympathy in a loss, which, to them, is far beyond human expression, and commend them to the tender, perfect care of One whose divine love makes no mistakes.

THE MAYSVILLE SHOE FACTORY.

Turning Out 150 Pairs a Day and Has Orders Ahead—A Growing Industry.

Quite a number of Maysville citizens went out last evening to take a look at the shoe factory, and they found this "infant industry" pretty vigorous and very lively for a youngster.

The building is heated with steam and lighted with electricity and it was the bright, particular object in that end of the city last evening.

Superintendent Brodt, the prime mover in the enterprise, had announced that the factory would be in operation from 7 to 9 o'clock, and the visitors were given a cordial welcome and were shown through the various departments. Messrs. H. H. Collins, John Armstrong, Frank Armstrong and John Duley, members of the company, assisted the Superintendent in showing the visitors through the factory.

The factory now affords employment to twenty-five hands, and is turning out 150 pairs of shoes a day.

Everything about the place betokens success. The company is finding a ready sale for the output. Cincinnati parties took 1,200 pairs a week or so ago, and have sent in additional orders since then. Mr. Brodt was up at Portsmouth the first of the week and booked orders for 500 pairs, and Portsmouth has seven factories of her own. A shipment of several hundred pairs was made yesterday to the two points named. Infants' and children's shoes only are manufactured.

Superintendent Brodt looks after the work on the first floor and oversees the factory generally. The cutting and stitching departments are on the second floor and are in charge of Mrs. Wasson and Mr. Vincent, experienced hands who came here from Philadelphia.

The factory will run until 9 o'clock tonight. The stockholders and the people of Maysville generally are invited to come out and see what this industry is doing. Business men should make it a point to go and see the factory in operation.

A great many children were present last night. The BULLETIN is asked to say that they are not expected this evening.

Train No. 4, Washington Express, left on time 31 days and arrived in Washington on time 29 days.

DEPUTY SHERIFF DENNY WARNOCK, of Greenup, shot and fatally wounded John Hollingsworth last Wednesday evening. Warnock is a Republican and was disputing with a son of Hollingsworth over the election. The lie was passed and he was knocked down. Warnock sprang to his feet, and before bystanders could interfere, jerked a revolver from his pocket and fired at his assailant. The bullet missed its mark and lodged in the left breast of John Hollingsworth, inflicting a wound that will probably result in death. John Hollingsworth is one of the leading and most progressive citizens of Greenup, being connected with the hub and spoke factory there.

"YON YONSON" will be the attraction at the Washington Opera House on Wednesday evening, November 14th. This play has attracted widespread attention because of the striking originality of the chief character, an Americanized Swede—a quaint, imperturbable yet manly fellow—capitally played by Gus Heege. The story tells of the career of a typical Swedish emigrant in the lumber camps of the Northwest and serves as a good vehicle for the comedy work of Heege, who is a clever comedian with a very mellow Swedish-American dialect. He is said to be the originator of this branch of the drama and he has invaded an unworked field with lucrative possibilities.

SCYTHES AND BOWIE KNIVES.

"Oklahoma," Bracken County, the scene of a bloody fight—Several Men Wounded.

"Oklahoma," Bracken County, is again to the front.

It was the scene of a bloody fight one day this week, in which scythe blades, bowie knives, dirks, &c., were the weapons.

Several of the participants were slashed and some of the wounded may die. Marshal Haley, John Hamilton and John Woods are in the doctor's hands, with slight chances of recovery. Haley is the victim of a dozen or more knife wounds; besides his skull was fractured by a rock. Hamilton's hide is almost cut into shoe strings, the wound being made by a scythe blade. His life is despaired of. Woods' throat is cut badly, besides many minor wounds.

Others who are more or less sliced up are Ollie Woods, Charley Jett, Eddie Workman, Walker Workman and a number of others.

The correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle says that Ennis Workman returned from Brooksville with a load of election whisky, which soon put the boys in 'fighting fix.' The drunken crowd were congregated near Ahab Woods, when the fight began. John Hamilton first attacked Gus Woods, when a desperate fight took place between the two. At this instance Charley Jett came upon the scene when he was set upon by Al Mains with a ten-inch dirk knife. Jett after receiving a flesh-wound in the side, managed to free himself and his legs took his body out of danger at a gate Robert J. might well be proud. At this time the fight became general all along the line; men cursing, women screaming and weapons clashing, with the result as above.

"She."

"She," one of Manager Pearson's most successful productions, will be presented at the opera house next Thursday, November 15th. "She" lays claim to being the only play of its kind that has ever been produced. Its characters are a combination of the mythical and real. Never before has the theatre-going or reading public found a character like Ayshid, a woman whose beauty lasted for nearly six thousand years and whose love lived as long. After slaying Killikrates, her lover, in a moment of passion she partook of the fire of life that she might live till he should be born again and when she beheld his sixtieth lineal descendant in Leo Vincey she again loved as of yore. When H. Rider Haggard gave his story to the world it created a stir in literature that no other book ever did. Critics thought him crazy, readers thought him grand and between them both over seventy millions copies were sold. Those who have or have not read the story should see this production.

THE CZAR'S REMAINS

They Are En Route to St. Petersburg.

SERVICES HELD AT LIVADIA.

Solemn Religious Rites in the Church and Then a Funeral Procession—The Body Will Lie in State Along the Route. Great Preparations Being Made For the St. Petersburg Services.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 9.—The most solemn religious services were held at noon in the Church of Livadia, to which the body of Alexander III was removed the previous night.

Masses were said in the presence of the body. The services were attended by Emperor Nicholas II, the czarina, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the representatives of various foreign powers and many others. The czar was deeply affected.

At the close of the services, and after the royal visitors present and the troops had viewed the body, the populace was formed in line and filed past the coffin to take a farewell look at the dead ruler. Many of those who looked upon the face of the dead czar were visibly affected, and expressions of sorrow were heard on all sides.

The magnificent coffin containing the remains was then taken with great ceremony on board the Russian cruiser Pamiat Merkovia for transportation to Sebastopol.

The procession was headed by the chief of the palace police and the master of ceremonies, both mounted, followed by a numerous troop of soldiers, including the Crimean division, composed of Tartars. Then followed long files of servants of the imperial family—footmen and domestics. Next in line were representatives of the zemstvo, or district assembly, the municipal authorities, the public schools and the public institutions of the Yalta district.

All of the dead czar's Russian and foreign decorations were carried on a cushion covered with silver cloth. Immediately behind the bearers of this pillow came the clergy, bearing lighted candles; then followed the coffin, borne by members of the imperial bodyguard and sailors from the imperial yachts lying in the harbor.

Following the coffin came the czar and his suite, the Prince of Wales and the Russian grand dukes, then the czarina and the grand duchess in mourning coaches. The procession walked from Livadia to Yalta, a distance of two miles, along the beautiful coast. The entire route of the procession was lined with troops.

Upon the arrival of the cortege at Yalta prayers were offered for the repose of the soul of the dead emperor, and a salute was fired from the shore and the ships in the harbor. The coffin was then placed on board the cruiser Pamiat Merkovia, and the journey to Sebastopol begun. The Pamiat Merkovia was escorted by the ironclad Twelve Apostles and the cruiser Oriel.

At Sebastopol saints from the ships and the forts announced the arrival of the cruiser Pamiat Merkovia. Czar Nicholas and the grand dukes bore the coffin ashore. They were received by officers and deputations representing the whole Russian army. The coffin was placed in a saloon special train. The czar's wife, whose health would not permit him to accompany the remains to St. Petersburg, took an affectionate farewell of his relatives, and the train then started on its journey. The czar's wife immediately returned to Abkhazian in the Caucasus.

When the funeral train arrived at Borki the body was placed upon a catafalque in the church, erected on the spot where the late czar's life was attempted by derailing the train in which he and the imperial family were traveling. There the body will lie in state one day and then the journey to the city will be continued.

The preparations for the funeral here are proceeding rapidly. The funeral service will be held in the cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul.

The tomb selected as the final resting place of the czar's body adjoins that of Alexander II. The cathedral contains the bodies of all the Russian emperors who have reigned since Peter the Great.

The municipal council yesterday voted an unlimited credit for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the reception here to Emperor Nicholas II, and the funeral of Alexander III, and also for the erection of a monument to the dead czar. They also passed a vote of 50,000 roubles to be used in draping the city.

An imperial order was promulgated yesterday initiating with a gift of 27,000 a subscription for the purpose of giving a dinner to the poor of Kharkoff the day after the passing through that city of the train bearing the late czar's body.

National subscriptions have been opened for a great monument to be erected to the memory of Czar Alexander III, "the great peacemaker." This work was undertaken by order of the new czar, and it is understood that the monument will be erected at Moscow.

The czar and czarina, through the court minister, Count Vorontsoff-Dachkoff, have thanked the Jewish community for their message of condolence upon the death of the czar and for the loyal and patriotic sentiments thereupon expressed by the Jews.

Hostile Feelings Toward Dr. Zacharin. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 9.—The medical students of this city made a hostile demonstration against Professor Zacharin. They were dispersed by the police. Professor Zacharin's house at Moscow was also attacked by an angry crowd. The windows of the dwelling were smashed with stones. The police are now protecting the house from further trouble.

Bricklayer Fatally Hurt. BUFFALO, Nov. 9.—Three men fell from the new Bank of Commerce building yesterday afternoon. Henry Oldfield, a bricklayer, is fatally hurt.

GOVERNOR WAITE WILL MOVE.

He Will Come to Illinois and Run For Governor of That State.

DENVER, Nov. 9.—An evening paper says: Governor Waite is going to leave Colorado. A well known Populist says that the governor is thinking over a proposition said to have been made to him to take up his residence in Illinois. It is said that the People's party of Illinois have taken such a liking to the governor that they want him not only to reside among them, but also to lead them to victory as their candidate for governor in 1896.

The reception given Governor Waite on his visit to the Windy City last week pleased him immensely. It is not probable that if the governor accepts the proposition that he will live in Chicago, but he will undoubtedly take up his residence near that city. His Illinois friends believe that he will make a good run for governor and they are anxious to have him come and settle among them.

Miners May Strike.

SPRING VALLEY, Ills., Nov. 9.—The miners' union of this city has issued a call for a mass meeting of members tomorrow. It is reported that unless the manager of the mine, Mr. Dalzell, reinstates the men who were discharged Wednesday for refusing to work on election day, a strike will be ordered, which will affect several thousand men and boys. The miners assert that Dalzell has been allowing politics to influence him in the matter of the hiring and retention of miners.

SERIES OF TRAGEDIES.

Two Men Killed by Cars and Another by a Wagon.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 9.—Ben E. Loyd, aged 62, a prominent citizen of Van Buren, was run over and killed by a St. Louis and San Francisco passenger train at Van Buren yesterday afternoon. His body was horribly mangled. It is thought to have been a case of suicide. Cecil Graham, 24 years old, was run over and killed by a wagon at Jadsoula. J. H. Waddell, an aged farmer, fell from a cotton belt train of Brinkley and was killed. He had been drinking.

Illinois Society Event.

BLOOMINGTON, Ills., Nov. 9.—The marriage of Charles Stevenson and Miss Lottie McLean, both leading young society people of Bloomington, was solemnized Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Carmichael. The groom is the nephew of Vice President Stevenson, who was one of the guests. The wedding was attended by a distinguished company.

The "Isle of Woman."

For ten years, if not longer, women have had the right of voting in the Isle of Man. Married women do not vote, but widows and spinsters, being householders and property holders, can, and they do. "When an election takes place for the house of keys, or the school board, or the town commission, lady voters are escorted in carriages by the canvassers to the voting places, and for the time the Isle of Man might be called the 'Isle of Woman.'"

HE WISHED HIMSELF A DOG.

"I wish I was a dog," he said, With evident disgust, And savagely his clinching fists Into his pockets thrust. His wife bestowed her tenderest care Upon her puppy, Tim, But not a kindly word or look Would she accord to him.

The gravest error she commits Of all her married life Who casts aside as "no account" The duties of a wife. I've seen it frequently myself And never will forget. She frowned and scowled upon her "hub," But smiled upon her pet.

I do not wonder that a man In such domestic bog, Will sink into the deepest woe And wish himself a dog. If I had such a wife as that, On sweet revenge I'd feast. I'd make her squally toe the mark And kill the farnal beast.

CATHERINE HARRISON, WITCH.

A Paper on the Early Witch Lore of Connecticut.

Dr. C. J. Hoadly read a paper on "Catherine Harrison, Witch," at a meeting of the Connecticut Historical society. Dr. Hoadly said that while Catherine Harrison was not executed two were undoubtedly executed for witchcraft in Connecticut, and there were others about whom there might be some doubt. This community was not swept by the superstition as were some parts of Massachusetts, but there were those here who held to it.

Catherine Harrison was a house servant before her marriage, and one of the daughters of the house where she worked made oath that she was a "notorious liar, a Sabbath breaker and a fortune teller." The depositions said she had caused sickness to some people, death to others, had an unholy influence over animals, had been seen to appear as a calf and change back to her own shape, and that her form or face had frequently appeared at people's bedside and other unlikely places. At this trial she was not convicted. She was arrested again in May, 1669, and again committed to jail. At the following term of court she was indicted, pleaded not guilty and was tried before a jury. This jury then failed to agree, and she was remanded to jail until court should convene again in the fall. At that term the jury rendered a verdict of guilty, but the court was not satisfied. It obtained an expert opinion on witchcraft from some ministers, and still not being satisfied referred the matter to the general court. She remained in prison until May, 1670, when the general court released her on the payment of the "just fees" of the trial and on condition she should leave the state.

Catherine Harrison left the state and went to Westchester, N. Y., but her reputation preceding her the inhabitants complained to the governor. For some time she was placed under bonds for good behavior. She was afterward released. —Hartford Times.

Cash and Gold Reserve.

Of all Fevers

the worst and most serious is Dengue or break-bone fever. Called "break-bone" because one's bones are not only racked with pain, but feel as if they were tightly held, as by a vice.

At times one feels that the pain is almost unbearable, and many are brought to Death's door by the terrible prostration which follows this grievous complaint.

All persons should know that

is the one medicine which relieves this extreme weakness and brings the patient back to sound health by its well-known medicinal qualities. From the first bottle the improvement is marked and permanent recovery is but a matter of a short period.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

DELIGHTED!

We have everything to gain by trading on a narrow margin of profit. We could not fill our shelves with goods at the very lowest prices known in the market if we did not buy on a large scale, and we could not sell on a larger scale unless we gave the public the full benefit of our close buying. We love to make our discounts. Our business will grow steadily, because we give it close attention. We buy cheap; we can sell cheap. Try us, the people's grocers.
